('the Author')

IT IS HEREBY AGREED

1. (a) In consideration of and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement the Author hereby grants the Publisher for the legal term of copyright the sole and exclusive right and licence to produce and publish the contribution in all forms and media throughout the world and to negotiate the sale of the right to reproduce the contribution in all forms and media in whole or in part in any language.
(b) Notwithstanding 1(a) above the Author shall have the non-exclusive right to include the contribution in any future volume of his or her own subject only to due acknowledgement to the Work.
2. The Author hereby asserts the Author's right always to be identified as the author of the contribution in accordance with the provisions of the UK Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988.
3. The Author shall deliver the contribution to the Editor on disk or as an electronic file with a typescript printed therefrom, (the disk/electronic file being the master version, so that in the case of discrepancy between disk/electronic file and typescript the former will be followed), together with any illustrations agreed by the Editor and the Publisher in good order and of a standard and quality acceptable to the Editor failing which the Publisher in consultation with the Editor may cancel this Agreement.
4. The Author undertakes to obtain and deliver to the Publisher upon delivery under clause 3 hereof such written permissions as are required to make use of any textual or illustrative material that is to be included in any part of the Work written by the Author of which the copyright is not the Author's and the Publisher undertakes to assist and advise the Author in this task. All relevant permission and reproduction fees shall be paid by the Author.
5. The Author understands that the final typescript of the contribution as amended by the Editor shall be deemed to constitute the final version of the contribution. At the discretion of the Editor, the Author may be required to check the proofs of the contribution, but only under exceptional circumstances and with the approval of both the Editor and the Publisher will the Author be allowed to make corrections of substance at proof stage.

6. The Author understands that the Publisher has the exclusive right to negotiate the sale of the right to reproduce the contribution (or any part thereof) in any form or medium and in any language. The sale of such rights by the Publisher in the contribution by itself (as distinct from as a part of the Work) shall be subject to the Author's approval and the Author shall receive 50% of any sums received by the Publisher in respect of such sale.

The Author understands that works published by the Publisher are included under the terms of this Agreement in the non-exclusive licensing schemes operated by such Reproduction Rights Organisations as the Copyright Licensing Agency (UK), the Copyright Clearance Center (USA) and the Copyright Agency Limited (Australia) and that any payments due to the Author for the copying of the Work under the said schemes shall be made in accordance with the licence terms then prevailing.

7. (a) Each contributor to the Work shall receive one copy of the hardback edition of the Work and one copy of any paperback edition free of charge. Further copies for personal use (but not for resale) may be bought by the Author as follows: from the Publisher's Americas Branch at a discount of 40% off the American list price where the Author lives in America; from the Publisher's Australia Branch at a discount of 40% off the Australian list price where the Author lives in Australia or New Zealand; from the Publisher's Asia Branch at a discount of 40% off the Asian list price where the Author lives in Asia; from the Publisher's office in Cambridge, England at a discount of 40% off the UK list price where the Author lives in any other part of the world.

(b) The Author shall be entitled to buy copies of any other work published by the Publisher for personal use (but not for resale) from the relevant Branch as provided under (a) above at the Branch's author discount terms prevailing at the time.

- *8. An account shall be taken annually of all sums due to the Author under the terms of this Agreement in each year up to 31 December and the amount due accordingly shall be paid to the Author by the May next following.

*Only relevant in the event of the Author earning income from the sale of rights in the contribution.

9. The Author warrants to the Publisher that the contribution is original to him/her, is in no way a violation of any existing copyright, that it contains nothing libelous and that he or she will indemnify the Publisher from and against any loss, injury or damage (including any legal costs and disbursements paid by the Publisher to compromise or settle any claim) occasioned to the Publisher in consequence of any breach of this warranty. All warranties and indemnities herein contained shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

10. If any difference shall arise between the Author and the Publisher touching the meaning of this Agreement or the rights or liabilities of the parties hereunder the same shall be referred to the arbitration of two persons (one to be named by each party) or their umpire, in accordance with the provisions of the Arbitration Act 1996 or any statutory modification or re-enactment thereof.

11. This Agreement shall be interpreted in all respects in accordance with the Law of England.

*12. Unless the Publisher has received the relevant Notice issued by HM Revenue and Customs in accordance with provisions of the double taxation agreement between the United Kingdom and the Author's country of residence, the Publisher is required to deduct United Kingdom income tax in accordance with Section 536, Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 from payments made to the Author under this Agreement which arise from sales of the Work within the United Kingdom at the basic rate of income tax prevailing at the time of payment. The Author shall have no subsequent claim against the Publisher for any such sum properly deducted in compliance with the requirements of United Kingdom income tax legislation.

*Only relevant to authors domiciled outside the United Kingdom and in the event of the Author earning income from the sale of rights in the contribution.
